

ASK THE DIRECTOR

FUTURE IGB

What might the IGB look like five, ten, or even twenty-five years from now?

When the IGB was launched, an interdisciplinary institute based on team-science was a radical concept. That model is now widely accepted. What else might we see implemented in the coming years that is being conceived at the IGB right now? In what ways will we adapt and evolve? Here's your opportunity to hear IGB Director Gene Robinson's thoughts on what the future may hold, raise your own questions, or even offer a prediction.

04.08.25

3:00 PM

612 IGB Conference Center
Staff/Student/Postdoc only
Approved for Civil Service

Refreshments will be served

Carl R. Woese Institute for Genomic Biology
1206 West Gregory Drive
Urbana, IL

Submit your question here or live during the discussion

Carl R. Woese Institute for Genomic Biology

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS URBANA-CHAMPAIGN